

In the Specification:

Please replace the specification with the newly submitted specification accompanying with the marked version for reference. The amendments to the entire specification are directed to replacing the phrase “external remote control extension” with the phrase “separate external addition-type remote control extension.” Applicants respectfully submit that the substituted specification includes no new matter.